

---

APPENDIX

---

CEREBRAL-P (PARASITE PROGRAM)

I have developed a specific program for the induction therapy after being excited about a New York Times article about the parasite “Toxoplasma Gondii” published in August 2014.

All living organisms have their own specific and individual rhythm. Since the excellent discoveries of Mrs. Dr. Hulda Clark, these disease causing agents and especially parasites have been known.

According to the insights of the scientists, the single cell organism by the name of Toxoplasma Gondii possesses the ability to manipulate the host. That is happening to an extent, that the parasite can even take over the mental control of its host.

The induction program mirrors a constructive rhythm to the parasite and thus dissolves the destructive parasitic rhythm.

CEREBRAL-A (ARCHON PROGRAM)

Similarly to the parasite program the archon program is directed at negative outer entities influencing the human brain. In the broadest sense the purpose is to block or reject anything that impacts us hypnotically. That includes the “attachments” that are already active in a person, which we all carry and which have been created by us ourselves (elementals, stuck thought structures).

The archon program of the induction therapy utilizes an oscillating frequency, which varies between 14 Hz and 7.8 Hz, meaning it uses the alpha rhythms. In this resting range of the human brain foreign information is not only recognized, but it can also be rejected. Thus foreign information that influences the mind (the ego) of an individual can be warded off. Archons are mind parasites. Let us remind ourselves that certain computer viruses are able to program the hardware of a computer in a way so that it destroys itself. A similar scenario takes place in the case of mental parasites, to which the archons belong.

In his book “The Betrayed Heaven” Dieter Broers writes on page 162:

“Archons are negative controllers of humanity. Inorganic hyper-dimensional entities. Relates to Egyptian texts that have been found in Nag Hammadi.”

CONFLICT T<sub>1</sub> AND CONFLICT T<sub>2</sub>

A person’s rhythm or vibration is individual. Each cell, each organ or system has an individual vibrational behavior at its disposal, which depends on the frequency modulation; presently we call that information. Body cells communicate in the micro-ampere range. The simplest way to apply system immanent information is the “induction”. We can safely assume these days that sick individuals, no matter what the complaints may be, show a changed personal vibration compared to the collective of life.

Life always keeps trying to synchronize diseased cells, organs and systems through the harmonious healthy collective vibration. If there are long-standing and severe burdens of the

ESOGETICS
heilkraft der farben

---

body or soul, then that can no longer be done. The diseased milieu does not accept the regulating information of the whole any longer and the circle of suffering commences. It is empirically known that long forgotten conflicts and traumas, including prenatal disturbances and burdens, are creating blockages that the supraordinate coordination can no longer resolve. The regulating impulses from the thalamus space are losing their target projection and thus the disease process becomes autonomous.

The induction programs Conflict T1 + 2 have resulted from the valid knowledge that the human being is vibrating in a rhythm between 0.5 to 100 Hz. All rhythms are originating in the thalamus space and the induction therapy is mirroring this space of coordination of all system immanent information. Thus it creates a top to bottom resonance of vibrating cells and cell formations. The regulation thus ultimately happens where all blockages are originating.

POWER NAP TEAM PROGRAM

Human individuality implies that “he” is living his own unmistakable rhythmicity. He radiates it outwardly, because we know that thoughts are electromagnetic waveforms, which can be measured and tracked even at a larger distance.

In spite of the individuality we are all linked to the so called “collective consciousness” and have to interact with the world the way it is, whether we like it or not.

It has been the case forever (since the Stone age), that the human being has been able to perform much better “in a team”, without sacrificing his individuality.

Those were the basic thoughts that led me to write such a team program for the induction therapy. Up to 20 people can be connected to this one program and in a very special way we become merged with the “team”.

Each partnership gives rise to controversies, so that this program can also be used in the partnership between two people (application with an adapter).

Overall this program can contribute to a renewed understanding among people, so that they are able to give up existing egocentric behaviors in favor of the “team”. That can open the path to a harmonious togetherness.